Gobind's behaviourcase study solution

Description

Gobind's behaviour

You are the head of the Production Department in an industrial concern. Gobind, one of your Supervisors, is continually socializing with your Deputy General Manager. Go bind arranges his coffee breaks with the Deputy General Manager and takes him on fishing trips. Gobind is always getting information about changes that are going to take place in your department before you do. The Deputy General Manager tells Gobind about problems in your department which Gobind shares with the other employees. Gobind pays little attention to you. When you give him advice, he usually says he will check with the Deputy General Manager the next time they have coffee. The other staff in your department openly refer to Gobind as Mr. Climber.
